

VOCAB TRACKING

Purpose

This repeated activity will help students become familiar with a process for understanding unfamiliar words anytime they encounter them in the course.

Process

Hand out additional pages of the vocab tracker for any students that have run out of space to write. Remind them that they should be using this tracker throughout the unit to record and look up new and unfamiliar words. Make sure to specify when and how often you want them to use the vocab tracker, and whether you are expecting them to look up and record a certain number of new words per week. It's up to you to decide the best use of vocab tracking for your students; however, we recommend you establish a routine and stick as closely to that as possible.
